

Wild Food Adventures

Outdoor Experiences Bring You Closer to Your Spirit

For more info visit: wildfoodadventures.com

16th Annual

Rockaway, OR

Native Shores Rendezvous

May 18-21, 2018

Intensive on the Role & Use of Coastal Edible Wild Plants & Shellfish in Everyday Life, Back to Nature & Self Reliance

$360 (Discounts for Early Regist.)
Learn about coastal edible wild plants, shellfish, & sea vegetables. Gather important edibles from bays, inlets, rocky shores & tide pools, as well as coastal forests. We'll feast every night.

Native Shores was much better than I expected. Processing the food and making the feast was a precious experience, something I'll always remember...I wish I could have stayed longer. I had a wonderful time, I'm totally satisfied and looking forward to more."

Craig Nielsen

16th Annual

Silverton, OR

GingerRoot Rendezvous

June 22-25, 2018

Intensive on the Role & Use of Inland Edible Wild Plants in Everyday Life, Back to Nature & Self Reliance

$360 (Discounts for Early Regist.)
Learn to identify, gather, process, and prepare important plants found all over North America. It is a great adventure — we'll learn each day and feast every night.

GingerRoot was a wonderful event in every way. The setting was beautiful, and the information was excellent. We were exposed to a great depth & knowledge of wild foods and ethnobotany. And our wild edible meals were great too!"

Anne Weise

John Kallas, your guide, is a trained botanist, nature photographer, writer, researcher, and teacher. John has led expeditions on wild foods for over 35 years. He's the author of the Wild Food Adventures book series. ...and yes, this is his full time job.

What to Expect

- ✧ Gain practical experience with important wild foods.
- ✧ Learn how Native Americans made a living off the Earth.
- ✧ Debunk misinformation in popular literature and the Internet.
- ✧ Eat lots of delicious wild foods that you help prepare yourself.
- ✧ Share cumulative experience & knowledge of all the participants.
- ✧ Learn how wild foods can be incorporated into today's everyday diet.
- ✧ Have fun in a great adventure you'll remember for the rest of your life.
- ✧ Make friends with people who are interested in the same kinds of things.
- ✧ Spend 4 days learning more than you might learn in 4 years on your own.

Both Events are Sponsored by John Kallas, Director, Wild Food Adventures, Institute for the Study of Edible Wild Plants & Other Foragables
Both events are held in Oregon. Info, Registration Forms, Discounts & Maps at: <http://wildfoodadventures.com> 503-775-3828

