Pacific Shores Rendezvous

May 24-27, 2024

Intensive on the Role of Coastal Seavegetables, Shellfish & Wild Plants in Everyday Life, Back to Nature & Self Reliance

$415 (Discounts for Early Regist.)
Learn about edible wild plants, shellfish, & sea vegetables. Gather important edibles from bays, inlets, rocky shores & tide pools, as well as coastal forests. We'll feast every night.

Pacific Shores was much better than I expected. Processing the food and making the feast was a precious experience, something I'll always remember... I wish I could have stayed longer. I had a wonderful time, I'm totally satisfied and looking forward to more."

GingerRoot Rendezvous

June 21-24, 2024

Intensive on the Role & Use of Inland Edible Wild Plants in Everyday Life, Back to Nature & Self Reliance

$415 (Discounts for Early Regist.)
Learn to identify, gather, process, and prepare important plants found all over North America. It is a great adventure — we'll learn each day and feast every night.

GingerRoot was a wonderful event in every way. The setting was beautiful, and the information was excellent. We were exposed to a great depth & knowledge of wild foods and ethnobotany. And our wild edible meals were great too!"
